Welcome my name is Alesha (formally Andrea Craske) I run my business Soul Concept from Widnes and I work as a Transformation Coach and Soul Contract Reader. I specialise in assisting people in their awakening to higher levels of awareness and consciousness by using a number of multi dimensional healing modalities and dynamic change interventions. I work with people who hunger for expanded levels of fulfilment; people who want to deepen their connection to themselves and others, and people who are committed to living in alignment with their heart, values, gifts and dreams.

What's New ? My personal and company name has changed and been optimised into alignment using the process of Soul Contract Readings if you would like to know more please call me or see below. I have moved premises to Hough Green in Widnes Cheshire, there is a train station at the top of the road, with easy access from all Liverpool, Manchester, Wirral and Chester train lines, it is close to many major road routes, with ample parking space and larger treatment and training rooms. New website - www.soulconcept.info this provides up to date information on my forthcoming courses and private consulting work.
